France Balks At Proposed Big 4 Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cancellation of a proposed Western Big Four meeting underlined today the difficulties the Allies will face among themselves if they ever get into negotiations with Russia over Berlin.

The proposed meeting of senior diplomats from the United States, Britain, France and West Germany in London this week to work out a common negotiating position had been tentatively agreed on, a State Department spokesman said Saturday.

Sunday the spokesman said there had been no decision on the high-level parley and, instead, the Big Four ambassadorial group which has been meeting here regularly on the Berlin crisis "will continue here in Washington."

The reason for the switch, informants said, was France, which objected that it would be premature to get into discussions on negotiations when the Kremlin has offered nothing the West can negotiate about.

The future of inter-allied talks remained obscure as the Western diplomats discussed what to do next. The United States had an invitation out to the proposed participants to come to Washington.

In London the Foreign Office said its delegate, Deputy Undersecretary Sir Evelyn Shuckburgh, would go to Washington. A West German spokesman said over the weekend the Bonn delegate, Deputy Foreign Minister Karl Carstens, planned to leave for London Wednesday as scheduled. In Washington, Asst. Secretary of State Floyd Kohler dropped his plan to go to London.

France's Jean Lalois, Director of European Affairs in the Foreign Ministry, apparently was going to no meeting on negotiations—either in London or Washington. The French stand is that the Allies would weaken their bargaining position by rushing into negotiations with the Reds over a Moscow-caused dispute while the Kremlin is threatening Berlin and has displayed no willingness to negotiate on anything the West can give up.

Launching Of Saturn Set This Week

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Scientists plan to launch this week the first Saturn superrocket on an eight-minute flight which will start the United States on the long road to manned landings on the moon.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reports the firing will take place within a few days if no problems arise. With 1.3 million pounds of thrust—about 30 million horsepower—the first Saturn is three times more powerful than any previous U.S. rocket.

The maiden flight will test the first stage only. Two upper stages will be filled with 23,000 gallons of water to simulate weight of the operational rocket.

The flight plan calls for the 162-foot, 462-ton Saturn to accelerate to a speed of 3,700 miles an hour during the 1 minute 57 seconds burning time of its eight big engines. In that time it will consume 300 tons of fuel.

When the engines cut off, the vehicle will coast upward on a ballistic trajectory to an altitude of 95 miles before plunging back into the Atlantic Ocean 235 miles to the southeast. No recovery attempt will be made.

Saturn is the United States' first entry in the heavy booster field. The Soviet Union has been using for some time an operational space rocket with estimated thrust of one million pounds. When ready in 1964, the two-stage Saturn C1 will be capable of placing a 10-ton satellite in earth orbit. Advanced C3 rockets will be able to send 40 tons into orbit or 15 tons on probes to the moon, Mars or Venus.

Yeggs Blast Safes At Judge Sharp's Home

Undetermined Loot Obtained While Family Away

Home Is Entered

An undetermined amount of money and jewelry were stolen from the residence of Judge Joel H. Sharp, 700 Highland Ave., Saturday by yeggs who entered the house sometime during the night and blasted open two safes.

Police said the job apparently was the work of professionals. They believe entry was gained to the house by use of a skeleton key since there was no evidence of forced entry.

The burglary occurred sometime between 8:30 p.m. Saturday and 12:50 a.m. Sunday while the common pleas court judge and his wife were away for the evening. When they returned home they found that the two safes had been blown open and ransacked. The contents were strewn over the floor.

One of the safes was on the first floor and the other on the second floor. Police said both safes had been forced open with explosives, presumably nitro-glycerin. Holes were drilled in the safe doors and the explosives placed inside the holes along with electric detonators.

Youth Shot By Trooper Airs Killings

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—A moody youth—shot by state troopers as he attempted to flee from his Adirondack Mountains hideout—has admitted he killed two former chums, police report.

The youth, Charles E. Warner, 16, seriously wounded by police fire Sunday, is in a hospital here. "We had a fight a long time ago," he said as he reportedly admitted the fatal shooting Saturday night of Philip Lindroth and Howard Lindstadt, each 17.

The violence began between two banks on the main street of this picturesque resort community—located at the birthplace of baseball—and ended at an Adirondack cabin on Big Moose Lake.

Warner had driven from Cooperstown to the lakeside cabin, about 110 miles north of Cooperstown, after the shooting. When state police approached, he attempted to drive off, they said. Warner was shot in the back, leg and shoulder, and the car smashed into trees.

Herbert Warner, father of Charles, said he did not have "the slightest idea what brought this about."

None of the boys had been in trouble previously.

CAR WINDOW DAMAGED

Santo Sicilia of RD 3, Salem, reported to police Sunday afternoon that the rear window of his auto was damaged while the vehicle was parked at the rear of the Century Market on E. State St. Saturday night and Sunday morning. Damage was estimated at $30.

DEMOLISHED SAFES. Top photo shows the effects of a nitroglycerin blast in an upstairs safe at the Highland Ave. residence of Judge and Mrs. Joel H. Sharp, which was entered Saturday night while the Sharps were away. The charge broke open the safe door and crumbled the thick concrete inside the door. The contents were scattered about as the thieves searched for valuables. Bottom picture shows the other safe in a downstairs room, presumably blasted open first. The intruders did not bother to take silverware, shown piled on floor. Note the hole in davenport cushion which was placed against safe door when the charge was set off.

Pedestrian, Cyclist Are Hit by Cars

A young boy on a bicycle and a woman pedestrian were injured in separate accidents in the city Saturday when they were struck by cars.

Rhoda Lee, 71, of 173 N. Howard Ave. was treated at the Central Clinic for contusions of the forehead and cheek suffered when she was hit by an auto at the intersection of W. State St. and Howard Ave. at 7:30 p.m.

Police said she was walking north across the intersection "against the light" when she was struck by a car driven by William E. Cope, 39, of RD 2, Beloit. Cope told police that due to a heavy rain he did not see the pedestrian in time to avoid striking her. Earl O'Brien, 13, of 696 E. 7th St., was treated at the Clinic for a laceration of the scalp after the bicycle he was riding was hit by a car at the intersection of N. Lincoln Ave. and E. 2nd St. at 3:20 p.m.

According to police, William E. Schuster, 23, of 481 Arch St., was making a left turn off Lincoln onto E. 2nd St. when the youth on the bicycle ran into the back of his car. Two witnesses told police that the boy was traveling too fast to get stopped.

Demand Ouster of Unit

Peace Corps Card Angers Nigerians

IBADAN, Nigeria (AP)—A postcard that went astray has given the American Peace Corps its first black eye in the field.

Nigerian university students demanded Sunday that the corps unit sent to teach Nigerians be expelled because of criticism of primitive living conditions in this year-old African republic written by an enthusiastic—but "thoughtless"—girl in the group.

Her postcard home, dropped accidentally on the campus, stirred 1,000 students at Ibadan University College to an angry demonstration denouncing the American volunteers as "agents of imperialism."

Margery Michelmore, 23, Smith College honor graduate from Foxboro, Mass., quickly apologized to the university authorities for writing the "thoughtless card" and offered to resign from the corps in an attempt to quiet the uproar.

Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver said in Washington he talked to the Nigerian ambassador and "he did not seem disturbed. He said it was the type of thing you could expect in this kind of operation, and I agreed with him."

The anti-American demonstration was organized after someone reportedly had found on the campus grounds the postcard that Miss Michelmore had written to a friend in Boston telling him: "With all the training we had, we were really not prepared for the squalor and absolutely primitive living conditions rampant both in the cities and the bush."

"We had had no idea 'about what 'underdeveloped' means. It really is a revelation, and once we got over the initial, horrified shock, it is a very rewarding experience. Everyone except us lives in the streets, cooks in the streets, and even goes to bathrooms in the streets."

She described the university as "great fun," but added, "I just hope they do not repeat last year's Lumumba riots." This was a reference to antiwhite demonstrations in Lagos, capital of this former British colony of 35 million people, after former Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba was slain in Katanga.

East Berliners Jump From 2nd Story Window

Frustrated Police Take Spite Out on W. German Crowd

BERLIN (AP) — East German police threw tear gas grenades at West Berlin crowd today after five East Berliners jumped from a second-story window of a border house into a sand-filled truck, West Berlin police said.

The incident occurred at Bernauerstrasse. There, apartment houses on one side of the street are in the Soviet sector, while the sidewalks below are in West Berlin.

At around noon, the truck roared up to one apartment house. Seconds later three men and two women jumped into it. West Berliners standing nearby cheered. The Vopos — East German people's police—were taken by surprise but after realizing what happened tossed several tear gas grenades into the West Berlin crowd.

Two Women Injured West Berlin police said the two women suffered minor injuries in the jump.

The East Germans, meanwhile, acknowledged that mobilization of the workers' militia to man the barricades has dealt a serious economic blow.

Red economic chief Alfred Neumann told the party's Central Committee Sunday "the withdrawal of workers from a factory for outside activities not connected with their trade must be extensively stopped."

Neumann said industrial output was up three billion marks—$714 million at the official rate of exchange. But he said over-all production was falling short of targets fixed in the regime's seven-year economic plan.

The brown-uniformed militiamen played a large role in building the wall dividing East and West Berlin when the barricades began going up Aug. 13. But early

Reds Appeal For Friendship With West

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union published an appeal for friendship with the United States, Britain and France today, within 24 hours of opening the big Communist party congress.

The appeal was one of the many slogans the country publishes each year in advance of the Nov. 7 celebration of the anniversary of the 1917 Bolshevik Revolution. There are 101 slogans this year.

While the congress will adopt a program calling for Soviet economic and cultural development aimed at spreading communism over the world, the party Central Committee not only proposed peace and friendship between East and West but even invited friendship with the people of West Germany.

"Long live friendship and co-operation between the people of Britain, the United States, France and the Soviet Union in the interests of a stable peace throughout the world," said slogan No. 38.

The slogans occupied the entire first page of Pravda, the Soviet Communist party organ.

Among major news items was one on the arrival of the Chinese delegation.

The delegation is headed by Premier Chou En-lai. But the Chinese party's No. 1 member, Mao Tse-tung, stayed at home.

The ideological schism of the Soviet and Chinese parties continues and appeared to be reflected in Mao's absence and the cooling of relations between the Soviet Union and little Albania, which these days is taking its principal guidance from China.

Woman Injured In Road Crash

Four Drivers Cited By Highway Patrol

A Newton Falls woman received a minor head injury and four drivers were arrested as a result of five traffic mishaps that occurred on area highways over the weekend.

Lora Knupp, 33, of 32 Orchard St., Newton Falls, suffered lacerations of the scalp when her auto collided with another car driven by Charles Ellis, 33, of Lake Milton at the junction of the Mahoning-Trumbull County Line Rd. and Rt. 534, near Lake Milton, at 2:15 a.m. Sunday.

According to the State Highway Patrol, Mrs. Knupp, turning left on the County Line Rd., cut too sharply and struck the left front corner of Ellis' car, which was approaching the intersection.

Ellis was arrested for driving while intoxicated and Mrs. Knupp for making an improper turn.

A car driven by Franklin Copcia, 19, of 383 S. Ellsworth Ave., struck two parked cars on Alternate Rt. 14, four miles southeast of the Mahoning-Portage County Line, at 4:50 p.m. Saturday.

The Patrol said Copcia, attempting to avoid striking an unidentified vehicle that pulled out in front of him, ran off the highway and skidded through a service station yard into the parked cars.

The parked vehicles are owned by Carl Shewell, 62, of Sebring, and Charles C. Crizer, 52, of RD 1, Beloit. All three vehicles involved received moderate damage.

Dorothy M. Lease, 44, of RD 4, Lisbon, was cited for failure to yield the right of way, following a two-car collision on the Depot Rd., just east of Guilford Lake, at 6:35 p.m. Sunday.

The Patrol said she pulled out of a private drive and struck a northbound auto driven by Ileana Mae Briceland, 34, of RD 4, Lisbon.

Rayburn Weakens, Rallies Over Weekend
DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — House Speaker Sam Rayburn 79, remained seriously ill with incurable cancer today after a weekend during which he weakened and then rallied.

The Texas Democrat has been at Baylor Hospital since Oct. 2. In its morning bulletin Sunday the hospital said Rayburn's condition was "only fair," that he seemed weaker and had "periods of confusion."

A bulletin Sunday night described Rayburn as seeming more alert but said that there had been no basic change in his condition, which was termed serious.

The bulletin also said the initial course of treatment with 5-fluorouracil and FUDR has been completed.

"After a period of observation, if his condition permits, treatment will be resumed with FUDR or irradiation therapy or both," the report said.

Retired Persons Reliable In Meeting Home Obligations

Home builders and companies handling mortgages are fairly well agreed that retired persons are more reliable in meeting their financial obligations than any other segment of the population.

Why? For one thing, retirees generally live on budgets. Their incomes, while steady, are considerably less than during their working years. Aware that they can and cannot afford to pay for housing each month, they contract only for what they can handle. Also, they are more aware of maintenance costs, since most of them had one or more houses in their younger days. And retired persons seeking homes usually are able to make large enough down payments to keep the monthly mortgage outgo very low.

BUT THIS AGREEMENT on the dependability of the retirement market does not extend to other areas. There is much difference of opinion, for instance on whether retirement housing should be within a special area or whether it should be spread through communities made up of different age groups. Ask any person nearing retirement age his opinion and he'll say he doesn't want to live in an all-retirement area. Most builders, realtors and other authorities also voice this opinion.

Yet the fact is that there are many successful development areas built especially for retired persons. They were advertised that way, they cater to the needs of the elderly, and they are thriving communities.

IT IS INTERESTING to note how a section built especially for non-youngsters can dispense with certain facilities that we have come to regard as necessary. Example: in a California retirement community recently completed, there are no schools. There is no need for them. Any persons 50 years or older may purchase homes there. And no children under 18 may live with permanent residents.

In another retirement mecca in Arizona, the builder decided that older persons want pleasant, active living. So he built all the recreational and other facilities first; then he built the houses. His theory, which worked, was that prospective purchasers would be more likely to buy in an area where all the desired community facilities were there to see instead of on paper.

Building Industry Will Boom To $60 Billion Record In '62

America's builders will have their best year ever in 1962, according to Architectural Forum.

The total likely to be spent on construction of various kinds will top $60 billion for the first time in history, says the professional magazine of building. This will be 7.1 per cent better than the present very good year.

Builders of motels, hotels, and dormitories will probably increase their activity the most—by 25.9 per cent. Apartment construction will also rise—by 16.4 per cent. Even construction of one- and two-family homes, which was down this year, will increase by about 2.5 per cent.

Construction costs have remained fairly steady this year. (They will probably show a rise of about 1.5 per cent for the year 1961.) But they are likely to increase by about 3 per cent in 1962. Thus, the forecast 7.1 per cent increase in total building construction dollar volume will actually amount to a 4 per cent increase in physical volume.

The Architectural Forum forecast for each construction category follows:

House construction (one- and two-family non-farm dwellings) in 1962 will increase to about 1,100,000 units worth $17.13 billion.

Apartment construction will rise to $5.18 billion worth.

Hotel, motel, and dormitory construction will go up to $1.99 billion.

Industrial building will rise 2.9 per cent to $3.5 billion. But defense spending could accelerate this substantially.

Office and warehouse building may decrease 4.2 per cent to $2.3 billion.

Store, restaurant, and garage construction is likely to stay at about $2.25 billion through 1962.

Religious building may be up 2 per cent to total an even $1 billion in 1962.

Social and recreation construction may gain about 0.6 per cent to reach a $795-million annual volume.

Educational building will gain about 6.8 per cent for a total of $3.9 billion.

Hospital and institutional building will likewise gain 6.8 per cent, rising to $1.25 billion.

Court house, post office, etc. construction will increase 11.1 per cent to $750 million.

"Other" buildings (from air terminals to zoos) will be up 4.3 per cent to $2.17 billion.

Other construction (all farm buildings, plus all non-building construction like dams, highways, etc.) will increase 4.1 per cent in 1962 to a total of $17.94 billion.

Don't Grumble About Closet Shortage -- Start Building

Everyone talks about the closet shortage. Few do anything about it.

But if your problem is the lack of closets, don't just sit and grumble, McGee.

Build them yourself.

Or have them built.

Or buy them ready-made.

Many modern houses are little more advanced than America's first houses — a roof over some rooms. Builders include a few extra closets in higher-priced homes, on the theory, I presume, that only people who can afford to buy expensive homes use many closets.

So you're faced with doing it yourself.

Lop off part of a room if need be and install a ready-made closet for ever-increasing paraphernalia. You'll be so happy with the results that you won't miss the space forfeited.

If your family is sports minded, as more and more families are these days, equip your home to accommodate your equipment. No more running to the garage for

Water Supply For Fallout Shelter Important Factor

Suggestions on a water supply and sanitary facilities for a fallout shelter are offered by the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau.

The bureau points out that water, food, ventilation, and sanitation are among the most essential factors for survival in a fallout shelter during a nuclear attack.

Although it has been suggested that water requirements might be taken care of by water impounded in a tank, the Bureau observes that a tank has the disadvantage of inadequate capacity in the event that it is necessary to live in the shelter for as long as a week.

Furthermore, the bureau points out that the fallout shelter should have a showerbath so that persons exposed to radioactive fallout could be decontaminated by a shower. For this purpose the water supply in a tank would be inadequate.

The bureau calls attention to the advantages of a private water supply provided by a well and pump even when a municipal water supply is available.

Not only is there danger that the municipal supply might be knocked out by a nuclear attack, but it would also be subject to contamination either by fallout or by breaks in the sewerage lines.

For these reasons the bureau explains that a private water system should be provided for a fallout shelter, if complete protection is desired. An auxiliary power system should be installed for use in the event that power from a utility is interrupted.

These days a good many cooks like to use a constant temperature (400 or 425 degrees) for fruit pies.

water skis, bureau for snorkel and basement for outboard motor. Collect the tennis rackets, skis, golf clubs, fishing rods, reels, guns, bats, balls and all the rest of it and design yourself a sports closet. Build in or have built in racks, shelves and pigeonholes to hold the equipment you have (and some bonus shelves for equipment you will get). You don't want to build a sports closet only to find everything in a clutter on the floor.

For Family Hobbies

Now what about a closet in the living room? Perhaps you could work it in under a built-in bookcase. If shelves go all the way to the floor and you don't need so many, put doors on the lower ones and stow your records, cameras, projector, screen, films, slides, albums, tape recorder, tapes, games and musical instruments.

Working hobbies — such as typing and sewing — if pursued in the living room, should have their equipment stored in that room. A closet possibility for typewriter and sewing machine is to build a wooden chest out from one wall, perhaps under a window, covering the lid with cushions. You can vary this, of course, substituting drawers for top-opening chest. Both make a nice window seat.

Couples who are Saturday night bridge or poker players need to store card tables. Look around for something nearby to slip them under or behind. One suggestion — open a trap door under the shallow end of your stairway. They'll slide in there, and you possibly may find room to store a set of folding chairs as well.

Out of Doors

We've become barbecue fanatics. But what do we do with the outdoor cooker and utensils if the cellar is inadequate or too loaded? The garage bulges with bicycle, baby carriage and little red wagon in many homes. Then there's the garden equipment, outdoor furniture, wheel barrow and lawn mower. An easy-to-build shed on the side of a garage could be the solution if this is your problem.

Clothes closets are likely to be inadequate too. Many men like their own closet with shelves top to bottom. No more digging through bureau drawers or competing with the wife for closet space.

The lady of the house, who needs more hangar space than anything else, also could use a row of shelves, perhaps on one side of her closet. Pocketbooks, belts, scarves, hats and gloves at a glance save a lot of rummaging.

The main thing when planning a closet is to decide what your most pressing storage needs are, figure out a place where these needs can be met (while you're at it, allot a generous amount of space) and design the closet's interior down to the last placement of pole, shelf and wall hook.

Then, and only then, turn to the home handyman or professional carpenter. When you know what you want, they can build it for you.

Wood Structures Last for Centuries

Wood has shown remarkable longevity. The oldest wood building in the world is believed to be the Horyuji Temple at Kyoto, Japan, which was built 1,350 years ago. A church in Norway is more than 1,000 years old.

Archaeologists have found wood models and figurines in the tombs of ancient Egypt, made an estimated 6,000 years ago. A wood floor in the tomb of one of the earliest Pharaohs, thought 5,000 years old, was reported found in good condition.

Diggings near Ankara, Turkey, three years ago uncovered massive wood beams that had remained sound for 2,700 years. These were found in the tomb of King Gordius, father of the more famous King Midas.

In New England are numerous old colonial homes with their original wood sash, siding and exterior, installed 300 years and more ago.

Here's The Answer

QUESTION: Can you give me some information about painting a kitchen? Is enamel all right? Can I paint one or two walls a different color? What color paint should I use to make a high ceiling appear lower?

ANSWER: A good quality enamel is ideal for a kitchen, since it protects as well as beautifies. Enamel makes a tough coating, essential where ordinary household duties cause a lot of moisture, as they do in a kitchen. Also enamel can be washed quickly and easily without damage to the surface. The painting of one or two walls a different color is especially desirable in a kitchen which is either box-like or long and narrow. Painting a wall a different color in a box-like kitchen gives it a more interesting appearance. Painting two walls a different color in a long, narrow kitchen gives the whole area a wider effect, but be sure to paint the side walls a light color and the narrow ends a deeper hue. To make a high ceiling appear lower, paint it a deeper shade than the walls. Enamel is flowed onto the surface in long, smooth strokes. Then, without refilling the brush, cross-stroke over the covered area. Then, a third time, and again without refilling the brush, stroke long and smooth again. This will spread the enamel evenly and prevent runs and sags.

Cake and Ice Cream, Too

The E. W. Bliss Company's announcement that Salem will be the headquarters for its newly-formed Heavy Equipment Division, resulting from the consolidation of its Salem and Canton plants, is like having ice cream with your cake.

The good news from Bliss comes on the heels of the earlier announcement that the Salem and Warren "Youngstown Kitchens" Division of the American Radiator and Standard Sanitary Corp. had been purchased by a new Mullins Manufacturing Corp. organization headed by Robert Potter, Bliss Co. board chairman who is soon to retire from that post, and Leonard Morey, head of the J. M. Lehmann Co. of New York.

An ambitious program is planned at Mullins, with increased employment planned after the first of the year. In the Bliss consolidation, it represents a strengthening of the rolling mill and other heavy equipment phase of the local factory, with an employment gain likely to occur. The action taken by Bliss' new president, Carl Anderson, is also a compliment to the ability of George Perrault Jr., head of the local plant, who will manage the new division. His personal supervision and enthusiasm have helped to make the Bliss factory Salem's biggest industrial operation and a contributing factor in our community's good economy.

The Bliss Company's success comes, in some degree, from the fact that its philosophy is to never look backwards. Its salesmen are optimists; never pessimists. You name it, Bliss can make it. Custom-built machinery is its specialty.

Bliss has long been associated with Salem and we sincerely hope that the years to come will see an even greater expansion of the local facilities.

The Way It Is With Newspapers

We have no hope that newspapers will be given a reprieve during National Newspaper Week (Oct. 15-21) by people who rant against them, but it's a chance to say something in our defense. Here goes:

Our critics, whatever their motives, are usually sincere. When they say they despise us, as some of them say every hour on the hour, they usually mean it. But there is this thing about their reason for despising us we think should be understood.

They are peeved at us because in one way or another or for one reason or another we are at cross-purposes with them, not because they want to get rid of newspapers. Thus, newspapers frequently are at odds with politicians because they want us to see things their way and we insist on seeing things our own way—and pow!

ALL KINDS of organized groups find themselves squared off against newspapers or teed off about us for the same reason. They want us to knuckle under to their point of view and we don't want to knuckle under—and they take out after us.

If our honest critics had to sit on our side of the desk, they would make about the same decisions we make over the long pull. We believe our dishonest critics, on the other hand, would run newspapers as high-handedly as they accuse us of running them, and we're glad they don't get the chance very often. When they do they show how bad things could get.

THAT'S ANOTHER THING about newspapering that should be given some thought each year during National Newspaper Week. Newspapers aren't licensed. All kinds of people can take a crack at the newspaper business. That's its built-in secret. It has been geared to the trickiest and highest right of mankind—the right to be right or wrong

Expert Opinion For the Asking

The president of the American Football Coaches Association, Jack Curtice, says the rising toll of high school football fatalities—13 so far this year—points to weakness in equipment, training, or both.

If a study were to be ordered, thousands of expert opinions could be had for the asking. Every coach in high school, college and professional football, every team doctor, every equipment handler and every player is qualified to put his finger on prime causes of actual injury and potential death. These range from the flying elbows of king-size players on professional and collegiate squads to inadequate equipment and poor training in some high school squads.

A thorough study might reveal, for example, that head protection is inadequate, because evidence shows that about three-fourths of football fatalities can be traced to head injuries. Sound deduction might then pinpoint the blame on some fault in the design of headgear. Perhaps it has become too rigid. Perhaps it was safer when it was

Once Over

It's hard to fault Washington's pledge for a fight against useless or nearly useless pills, capsules, etc., but if average American is deprived of them, he will set up an awful howl. The all-purpose pill-filled medicine cabinet has become the heart of the American home. The right to take pills is one of our four freedoms.

Mr. and Mrs. America takes pills about which they know nothing to cure aches of which they are not certain. They get relief largely through imagination.

Millions swallow them wholesale, believing they help, even if they feel worse. It is our bet that Secretary of Health Ribicoff takes pills before and after his speeches calling for immediate war on the "fleece lined spider's web of fraud and deception" and "quacks who prey on those in search of better health."

Two cabinet officers, Food & Drug Administration officials, Attorney General's Office and American Medical Association speaker joined Mr. Ribicoff in call for all-out war, but we think it probable that they got warning from wife, "Now remember to take your tablets just before you start talking."

Mr. Ribicoff says "witch doctor and his tom-tom have given way to elaborate brochure, medicine show extravaganzas and TV commercials."

It looks that way and some controls are necessary. But be reasonable. If cut off from customary supply of pills, good, bad and more flexible—capable of absorbing shock, instead of transmitting shock.

The 1961 football season is just hitting full stride. If deaths and injuries continue to pile up at the present rate, the shine could be taken off a great game by suspicion that it was costing more than it was worth. The people who love the game most should be first to protect it.

Election Laws

New precinct workers especially will benefit from the school of instruction which the Columbiana County Board of Elections will conduct at the Memorial Building here Tuesday evening. A number of new workers has taken over assignments in the various polling places and the Election Board's "classroom" session is timely.

Even the veterans among precinct officials need to be kept up-to-date on election law amendments, court rulings and legal opinions which affect voting in Ohio.

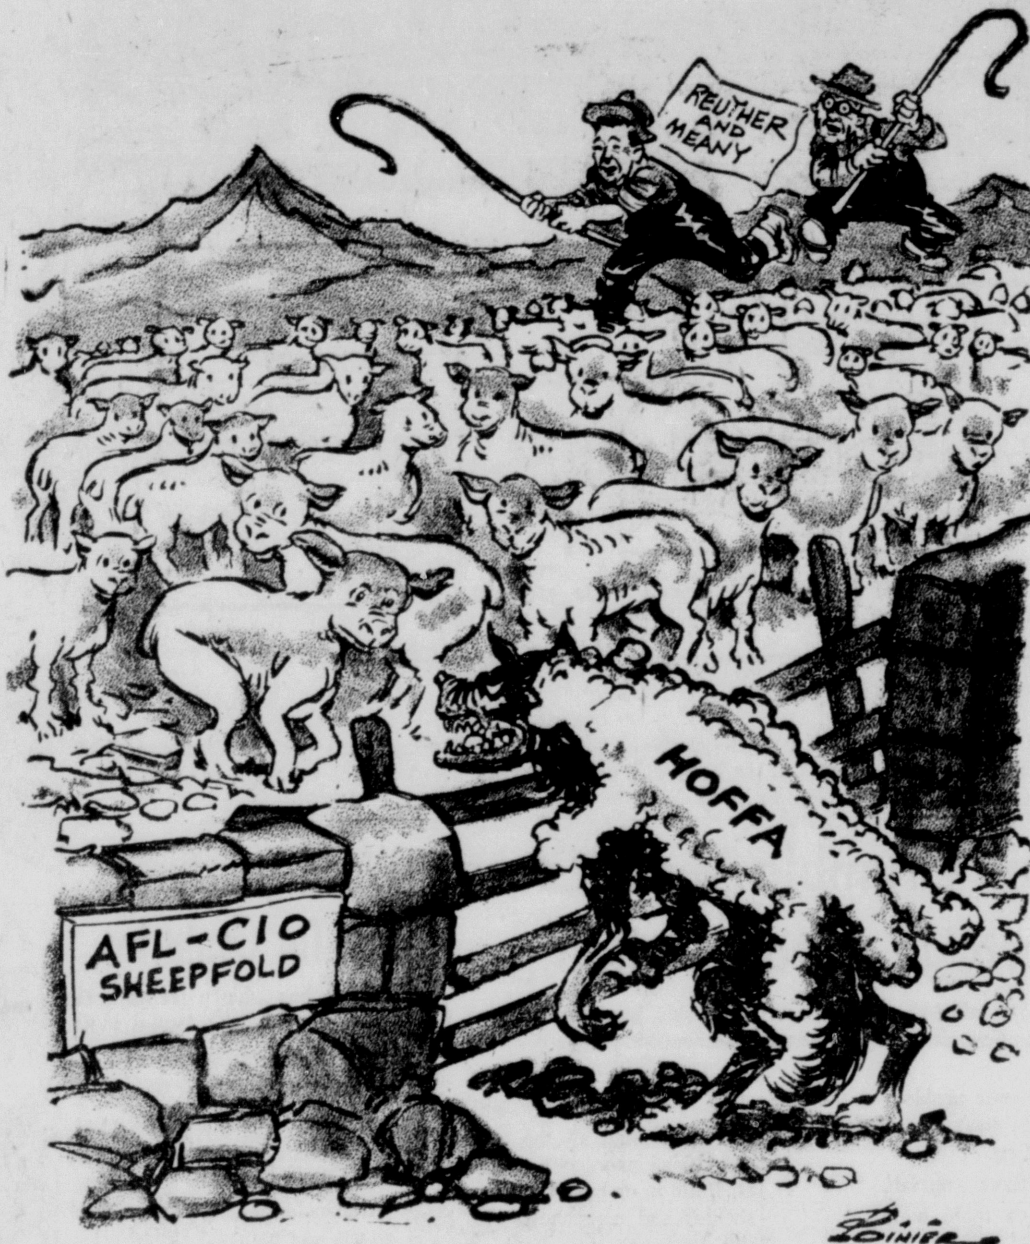

medium, a lot of folks will cry "To the ramparts!" A pill is a pill is a pill even if it is a Mexican jumping bean or shoe-button so far as its benefits are concerned.

Crusaders forget that pills have a psychological grip on Americans. They will take anything that dissolves in a drink of water. And go for any liniment that they get through a TV whodunit, cowboy show, private eye or baseball star.

BACK HOME STUFF: Seldom has ye ed felt more saddened than by walk through Crown street which revealed the old New Haven Register Building had been torn down, with nothing but vast emptiness where it once stood. This was our first newspaper home and school. Here as a cub reporter we found adventure, excitement and the Bohemian spirit now largely gone. It had been an abandoned building for some years, but to us it was a glowing shrine to wonderful memories... a temple of an earlier world of "scoops," frequent "extras," immeasurable fun and not much interest in money or short hours.

We first walked into the building in answer to a want ad for a boy to learn the newspaper business. Opportunity and the top job came to us there, before we went on to success in the big city. Our pay was $3 a week. When we got a raise to $5 in the second year we thought there could be no greater happiness.

Until that pie-in-the-sky day when Nikita Khrushchev makes good his promise to the Soviets of a free food, free rent leisurely paradise, the U.S.S.R. needs vast amounts of our capitalist supplies — yet the U.S. State Department has just attempted to stop a waterfront boycott which could cripple the Russian and satellite war machine.

This boycott by the strong men and skillful hands which are needed to load properly the hundreds of millions of dollars worth of equipment we are shipping the barbed-wire bloc began rolling when the Pentagon began calling up our young reserves.

Longshoremen in the vast New York harbor refused to handle any cargo, inward or outward bound,

from or for the maw of Moscow.

Immediately a high State Department official telephoned Capt.

Bill Bradley, president of the International Longshoremen's Association, (ILA).

THE STATE DEPARTMENT,

the caller said, has everything under control. It might be bad now to create another situation, he added. The boycott must stop, he demand.

I checked this conversation out with beef-eating Bill Bradley during the AFL-CIO high command session here. He has the time, date and place of the call and the name of the insistent diplomat.

The portly captain wanted the government official's name and classification on the Foreign Service roster kept off the record. So it shall be.

But I did get the feeling that the gentleman from Washington told the former towboat captain that there was particular concern over gentility to the satellites — especially Poland.

This mystifies me. Back in my trench coat days this summer I learned of vast military preparation there for an assault on Berlin and our NATO allies.

Also I learned that Poland, to which we have given some $700 million worth of aid, has contracted to build a big shipyard for Castro's Cuba. This will be created in the Mariel zone of Pinar del Rio Province.

Some 20 Polish technicians will direct the multi-million dollar construction project. In turn, 52 Cubans will be trained in Poland to run such a yard, which could turn out Caribbean-type warships for use against us.

WHEN COMPLETED it will be able to turn out 60,000 tons of shipping annually. If these craft don't snipe at us with live ammo, they will attempt to cut into our trade with Latin America.

The State Department solicitude

over the satellites and their sensitivities had some effect. However, the ILA did not call off its boycott entirely.

On the piers of Manhattan, at least, I'm told by ILA executive vice president, Ted Gleason, the Longshoremen refuse to loan or unload anything marked from or to the U.S.S.R. No Soviet canned

fish, caviar or other money-making delicacies are unloaded here.

No machinery is put aboard for Russia itself.

But the Russians, and those who trade with them — Berlin wall or no Berlin wall — simply shift their vessels to other ports. There, business goes on as usual, though, for many a young reservist who has just gone into business, there just isn't any "usual." So, the national

ILA leaders plan to plug up those port holes if possible.

Their international executive board — which has done its share

by almost strangling Cuban trade — will meet in Washington beginning Oct. 19.

THIS BOARD will be asked by Gleason and Bradley to extend the boycott to all other harbors—in Canada, along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts as well.

They'll have some powerful arguments. They point to statements by Fowler Hamilton, new head of the Agency for International Development (AID). He has said aloud we ought not to help unfriendly lands.

The Longshoremen also will have in mind welfare of thousands of American—I was going to say workers, but many are unemployed — jobseekers.

There are, for example, the

Trenton (N.J.) Marine Terminal

facilities. A few ships have been pulling in with cargoes of cement

from Central Europe.

Some labor leaders there have urged boycotting this shipping.

Why? They have the word of Victor H. Thomas, a leader of the AFL-CIO United Cement Workers, that "fair-to-labor" employers in the U.S. can't compete with Communist-made cement. This has cost American workers millions of dollars and many jobs.

This is just one small port.

There are scores of big ones through which the barbed-wire bloc is dumping its competitive products, picking up U.S. dollars, with which to pay for potential war material.

I just don't dig that State Department fellow.

U.S. Growth Shackled

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Antiquated Laws Must Be Revised

The biggest problem before the country today is domestic but it has worldwide implications. It can mean the difference between defeat and victory in the contest with the Communist regime in Moscow. It can be described in a phrase — incentives to national growth.

The truth is that national growth is being impeded, obstructed, retarded, and even discouraged. The greatest obstacle to national growth is the federal government itself, aided and abetted by demagogic politicians and narrow-visioned economic advisers in the government.

Two examples stand out. First, if war broke out tomorrow, the nation's whole transportation system would be inadequate to move troops and supplies. The railroads, for example, are in the worst condition they have ever been in American history.

Who is responsible?

The federal government, of course, and this means the Congress as well as the executive branch. While belated studies at last have been ordered, there still is no sign that the railroad problem will be tackled effectively.

The most antiquated of all laws are those governing the railroads. Mergers are a necessity today yet they are being blocked by local considerations. The national interest is not being given paramount attention.

The consolidation of many small railroads into a few big systems would give the country efficient rail transportation once more under a private enterprise formula.

The government can help by removing impediments and providing certain assistance, particularly to meet national defense needs.

THE NEXT EXAMPLE is in the field of production. If America expects to compete successfully with Soviet production in the next 20 years, there must be an opportunity for American business to expand naturally in the interest of efficiency.

Tax laws on depreciation must be revised. Growth cannot come, moreover, if expansion is retarded by antitrust laws that are more theoretical than practical. More extensive operations by single companies would mean that prices could be lowered as volume of sales were increased and economies were achieved through large-scale production.

It doesn't make sense to delegate to a bureaucracy of lawyers in the Department of Justice or even to a federal court the solution of economic problems involving growth.

How can such officials decide whether 40 per cent of total production in a given industry is too much or too little for one company to have? Which is more important — to preserve someone's ideas on these theoretical percentages or to give America more growth and more employment by enabling the industries of the United States to become more efficient and step up their production?

Things of climactic importance are happening. The Common Market in Europe means stiff competition for America. The rest of the world is moving on while America is lagging.

FOR SEVERAL WEEKS now the Kennedy administration has been hearing that it is considered antibusiness. It wonders how this impression gained currency.

The answer is that it isn't due simply to speeches or comments by administration officials nor is it related solely to any announced policies.

It is the net result of efforts to enforce old antitrust laws that are long out-of-date, ambiguous, confusing and destructive. The politicians fear that to help national growth by sensible policies is to become allied with or too friendly to "big business."

Big unionism, on the other hand, is accepted as a fact of life, the federal government doesn't put any brakes on the growth of unions which set the wage rates in an entire industry and compel wage costs that, of course, affect prices.

There are no "antitrust" laws restricting the growth of national unions.

Lots of talk has come from the White House lately about holding down prices, along with some vague talk about urging labor to be moderate in its wage demands. But the big point is being missed.

Profits are being reduced by one-sided policies. Prices are an economic problem and cannot be resolved by a political formula.

National growth will not come wages and prices. It will come by removing restrictions against growth and by revising or repealing many antitrust laws that have been written by the courts—and not by Congress.

IT'S TIME to take a look not only at the whole monopoly situation but also at the outmoded rules and regulations of federal agencies like the Interstate Commerce Commission.

There is need for a reexamination, too, of the functions of the National Labor Relations Board, which, every time an administrative change, reveals a tendency on the part of newly appointed members to regard the board as a quasi-political instead of a quasi-judicial agency.

National growth is America's most urgent need. It is being cursed competition with the Soviets is now confined to the field of education or science but extends to the field of production as well.

Unfortunately, production doesn't have a lobby in Washington. What's needed is not just a political secretary of commerce but a secretary of transportation, a secretary of foreign trade and a secretary of national production—each of them nonpolitical, like the secretary of defense. For all this is related to national security.

The Grinnies

By TRUMAN TWILL

I want to be the first to admit there has been improvement among the grinnies—and I don't mean chipmunks.

I mean the people who were everlastingly grinning when photographers took their pictures. They aren't as earish-to-earish as they were a few years ago when I began to complain about them.

Remember how it used to be? A kidnaper who had buried the little body in a pile of gravel would pose for his picture grinning from ear to ear and with him would be a brace of knuckle-headed cops similarly overjoyed about getting their "pikshur in the papers."

Everybody in those days was taken in by the photographer's shallow credo that the world was composed of happy people who kept smiling through gunfire, arson, molesting, pilfering and highway robbery.

Football players, baseball players, basketball players, second-story men, fallen women, commiteewomen, auto race winners, beauty contest losers, rounded-up gamblers, wounded soldiers, sailors, bankers, bridge players, lost children, models, salesmen, politicians and com men all smiled, regardless.

The grinnies grinned through Mussolini, Hitler and Stalin. They flashed their dentures through Haile Selassie, the fracas in Spain and the Chinese agrarians.

Everybody kept smiling right through Austria, Czechoslovakia and Finland.

We grinned through World War II. Even Pearl Harbor didn't wipe off that smiles. Look, ma, no brains but we're happy. Har de har har.

For those of us who aren't laughing boys by inclination, though our hearts are wondrous gay, some of the grinning was so hard to bear we itched to wipe it off with fists.

The trained seals still do a lot of grinning while fooling with their hair and swallowing stuff good for their insides, but for this they can be forgiven. The hair-foolers are letting their mouths hang open the way a man's mouth gets all awry while he is shaving his face. And the people who take stuff good for their insides are gastro-intestinal cases. What looks like a grin is gas pains.

The grinnies are pulling out of it. Mostly if there's nothing to grin about, they don't grin—not even if they've had their teeth capped. It has occurred to a number of Americans recently that happiness is a state of mind, not a position of the mouth.

They don't buy the Keep Smiling slogan from the photographers. Photographers themselves must have perked up. It has been years since I heard one exhort his victims to smile, and if I never hear that exhortation again it will be a lifetime too soon.

Posterity will have enough to hold against us without all that senseless, rapid smiling.

The Doctor Says

By DR. H. T. HYMAN

Ailing School Child Is Problem

"To go to school or stay home from school?" That's the question that puzzles the conscientious parent almost as much as "To be or not to be..." puzzled Hamlet.

At one end of the spectrum is the suspected "gold bricker" who puts on an act on Monday morning or on the day of an exam for which he or she is inadequately prepared.

At the other end is the over-conscientious youngster who is fearful of making any complaint lest he or she sacrifice a perfect record of attendance or miss a class with a revered and respected teacher or lecturer.

Dangers lurk in each of these extreme attitudes. And in many intermediate situations.

To let the goldbricker get away with his or her act is to establish a precedent that may lead to later and greater exploitations of the "strength of weakness."

To permit the hyperconscientious child to hide or deny distress may result in perforation of an infected appendix that might have been easily and rapidly removed, if the complaint of belly-ache had been reported when first noted.

On a broader scale, a school epidemic of an infectious disease might have been averted if a sore throat was called to the parent's attention before the youngster got on the bus or mingled with classmates.

The difficulties of making the on-the-spot decision are by no means lessened by the usual commotion that's prevalent in most households between waking - up time and the mad dash to get to work, school or the office.

School buses, car pools and trains can't be held up while mom and pop go into conference.

Here are a few suggestions that may prove helpful:

After the goldbricker has gotten away with his or her act the first time, waken him or her a few minutes before the usual time each morning thereafter; inquire into existing complaints and while there's still time look for obvious signs of disease.

That is to say, a rash, especially behind ears (measles); nasal discharge; reddened eyes or throat; elevation of rectal temperature; or a swelling or glandular enlargement, at or near the site of complaint.

Finding nothing, send the youngster off with instructions to report to the school nurse or doctor, on arrival. And phone the school to alert some official to see that the youngster reports before mingling with classmates.

In the case of the hyperconscientious student who won't complain and who refuses to permit examination or temperature recording despite an appearance of illness, phone the school nurse or doctor of your suspicions.

And request that your youngster be looked over before entering class.

I won't guarantee that school officials will cast their ballots for you as "Parent-of-the-Year." But you may perform a valuable health service to your own child and to his or her classmates.

This and That

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The human body is a natural power plant. The blood cells of the average man contain enough electricity to light a 25-watt bulb for about three minutes.

Prosperity note: Americans now spend about as much on tobacco and alcoholic beverages as they do on schools—some $15 billion a year.

Even a dog's life is getting more expensive. It now costs from $95 to $150 to raise a puppy, depending on its breed and appetite.

One way to get ahead: Giacomo Puccini, composer of "La Boheme," "Madam Butterfly" and other noted operas, gave this as his success formula: "I am almost always in love."

Philatelic oddity: Great Britain and Russia never print the full name of their country on their stamps.

The strange smell of distress: Doctors have found that many victims of schizophrenia, the most prevalent mental disease, have a characteristic odor, which helps in the diagnosis of their psychosis.

Beauty is a matter of opinion and varies from country to country and age to age. Some Congolese tribes scar their faces and bodies elaborately for decorative purposes. And tightly bind the heads of infants to give them an elongated skull—another mark of handsomeness.

Executive signs: On the desk of insurance tycoon Elmer Leterman: "Luck is preparation meeting opportunity."

You think you're having trouble with your family budget? The federal government in the last eight years collected $53 billion more in revenue than it did in the previous 164 years—from George Washington through Harry S. Truman. In those same eight years it also borrowed—and spent—an additional $23 billion.

How do you buy gasoline? A survey showed the largest number of motorists say, "fill 'er up." But 25 per cent buy by the dollar, $2 worth most often, and 5 per cent by the gallon, usually five gallons.

Wisecrack of the week: Actor Oscar Homolka says he knows a hypochondriac who had such a wonderful time at a health resort he's never going back.

Tip to wealthy wives: Dirty di-monds look smaller. Your diamonds will look larger and brighter and impress the neighbors more if you clean them regularly in a solution of detergent and hot water.

It was Robert Frost who observed, "a man will sometimes devote all his life to the development of one part of his body—the wishbone."

Highway Equipment Inspection Scheduled
State Highway Department vehicles and equipment at the Columbiana County garage at Leetonia will be inspected Wednesday morning in preparation for the coming snow and ice control program.

Division 11 Deputy Director William P. McKenna said the purpose of the inspection is to assure that all equipment is in proper and safe working condition for the winter months.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hawkins of Beaver Falls, Pennsylvania, called on his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Smith.

Mrs. Minnie Walker has returned from Beaver, Pa. where she visited her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Farley.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Heim were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Rogers of Winona, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Walker and family of Dungannon, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Heim and children of East Canton and Mrs. Minnie Walker.

Suspect Details Cross-Country List of Crimes

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — "I knew what I did was wrong, but I couldn't help it," sobbed a former mental patient who Sunday detailed a cross-country trail of sex crimes which left at least three women dead.

Hugh Bion Morse, 31, told police he was overwhelmed by his sex urges and couldn't control himself, officers said.

Police Chief Lester McAuliffe of St. Paul and Chief Clifford Payne of Spokane, Wash., said lie detector tests had confirmed Morse's confessions Sunday.

Chiefs McAuliffe and Payne gave this account of Morse's confessions: He raped and killed Glorie Brie, 28, of Seattle, Nov. 7, 1959, and Blanche Boggs, 69,

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were Sept. 27, 1960. Both women were beaten with pipe wrenches.

Beverly Myers, 25, Spokane, was assaulted Oct. 10, 1960, and the woman was beaten with a pipe threader Morse found in the basement of her apartment. Miss Myers recovered, and police received a tip from a neighbor of Morse.

In March or April of this year he entered an apartment in Atlanta, Ga., found a girl of about 19 in bed, held a knife to her throat and raped her. About the same time he broke into another Atlanta home, threatened a mother and her three daughters, and molested one of the girls, 15.

In May or June he broke into a Dayton, Ohio, apartment, found a knife, and stabbed the woman occupant once in the chest and twice in the back.

In April, May or June of this year, Morse said, he broke into a second-floor apartment in Birmingham, Ala., found a woman sleeping in a white nightgown, hit her on the head with a piece of pipe, and attempted to rape her. Morse said he thought the woman might have died.

On Sept. 19 Morse entered the unlocked apartment of Carol Ronan, 34, a St. Paul social worker. He struck the sleeping woman with a padlock, then raped, strangled and stabbed her.

About a week ago, he said, he lured a St. Paul girl, about 5 or 6, into an alley and molested her.

ately in need of help.' I notified the Coast Guard," Moody said.

The Coast Guard boat and a destroyer, already en route, were told to wait offshore Saturday night. The pickup was made the next morning. Moody flew to the island—130 miles southeast of Miami—Sunday.

He said he got this story from his caretaker: A boat 40 to 50 feet long flying the Cuban flag and with "Joe Louis" painted on the stern had been fishing in the area two or three days. It was anchored 1,000 feet from the island Saturday morning when a vessel which appeared to be a refugee boat picked up other refugees from a leaking boat and went into an inlet. The refugee boat anchored, and the occupants went ashore.

"At 3 p.m. the boat that appeared to have been fishing pulled up anchor and advised Sears that it was returning to Cuba," Moody related. "But instead it went into the inlet and opened fire with rifles on the refugee boat. The crew returned the fire with a couple of rifles and then jumped overboard and waded and swam to shore. The Cuban boat turned its fire on the refugees waiting on the beach and kept it up for 10 or 15 minutes. Finally it left."

No one was injured. The group comprised 21 men, 6 women and 18 children.

this month they seemed to disappear—apparently back to the factories.

Despite the close police guard on the Berlin border, Americans were allowed to pass into East Berlin.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, in a demonstration of Western rights to move anywhere in the divided city, toured the Communist sector Sunday night. President Kennedy's personal representative here was accompanied by Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II, the U.S. commandant. Police made no attempt to interfere with them.

Five women employees of the U.S. mission in Berlin, riding in a private American car bearing Army license plates, were turned back twice at the Friedrichstrasse checkpoint when they refused to show their identity papers to East German guards. Lt. Thomas S. Bainbridge of Detroit, Mich., showed up in uniform, took over the wheel of the car with the women as passengers and rode through.

Four other Americans—three State Department official traveling alone—were held up returning from visits to East Germany when they declined to show their papers. Then without explanation, they were allowed to pass.

A PROVEN HERB REMEDY FOR THE PAST 19 YEARS

Kennedy Plans Meeting With Finland's President

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President Kennedy quits Cape Cod today for Washington conferences with President Urho Kekkonen of Finland, the Soviet Union's Western-inclined next-door neighbor.

Kennedy scheduled a morning takeoff from Otis Air Force Base. As he headed for the capital, Kennedy was understood to be planning a quiet conference with Prime Minister Nehru of India at his Hyannis Port haven next month.

Arrangements were being made for Kennedy to exchange views with Nehru both in Washington and in the seclusion of his vacation home the first weekend of November.

Kennedy is known to have been interested for some time in talking personally with the leader of the world's largest uncommitted nation in the cold peace, as he puts it, between the free and Communist worlds. The possibility of a get-together before the year ends has been in the wind since early summer.

President Ayub Khan, the leader of India's neighbor Pakistan, visited Washington in July. Nehru's trip may lack the ceremonial trappings of a state visit but would provide the opportunity for a face-to-face discussion, without formalities, of the Communist threat to Asia as well as the global aspects of the fundamental East-West conflict.

ing caps. The explosives were then set off with an electric charge, according to Police Chief Martin Lutsch and Capt. Robert Kirchgessner.

Only valuables were taken and these were from the safe upstairs which was in a closet off the master bedroom. Known to be missing was an undetermined amount of money, some valuable old coins, jewelry belonging to Mrs. Sharp and a gold watch once owned by the judge's father, Herbert Sharp. The intruders did not take silverware which was in the downstairs safe.

The burglars used sofa cushions to deaden the sound of the blast downstairs. Upstairs they put a mattress against that safe to cushion the blast.

Police Capt. Kirchgessner is checking fingerprints found at the scene.

Columbiana County Sheriff Russell VanFossan also investigated the safe-cracking.

Washingtonville Boy Hurt By Automobile

Douglas Ray Davis, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Davis of Washingtonville, is reported in fairly good condition at Salem City Hospital after being struck by a car at 8:10 this morning.

The accident occurred when the boy reportedly ran from behind shrubbery into the path of a vehicle driven by Mrs. Sue Dolence, 29, of Winona as she was turning into the Lutheran Church parking lot in Washingtonville.

HUB CAPS STOLEN

Robert Zimmerman of N. Lundy Ave. reported to police this morning that two hub caps were stolen from a car parked in the Zimmerman Auto Sales car lot, 170 N. Lundy Ave. sometime over the weekend.

INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Richard Kopenhafer, 16, of 646 E. 6th St., and Robert Mitchell, 17, of 545 Aetna St. were also injured in the four-vehicle mishap that occurred on Alternate Rt. 14, one-half mile north of Rt. 165 late Friday afternoon.

Passengers in an auto driven by Michael E. Howell, 16, of the Franklin Road, they received minor injuries and were treated at the Central Clinic, along with Howard J. Manypenny, 37, of North Benton, driver of a pickup truck involved in the mishap.

The accident occurred at 5:30 p.m. Friday on slippery pavement. Patrolmen at the Canfield barracks said Manypenny had stopped his northbound truck on the highway for traffic jammed up from a previous accident, and that another truck driven by William Tierney, 68, of Cuyahoga Falls, slowed down behind the truck. Howell's car then skidded into Tierney's auto and Manypenny's truck, and then skidded sideways into a southbound car operated by Hobart R. Long, 25, of Farmington, W. Va., the Patrol said.

Crossing Tragedy at E. Palestine Averted

EAST PALESTINE — Mayor Robert Harding today asked the Pennsylvania Railroad for more adequate warning signals at the Pennsylvania Railroad crossing on N. Market St.

He requested larger and more prominent signals.

The action follows a near tragedy here Saturday night when a local car carrying four persons narrowly missed being struck by a westbound train.

The driver, Mrs. Marie Daniels, 37, of 463 N. Sumner St., told the mayor that her windshield was clouded and that she didn't see the lowered gates or hear the warning bell. Her car went through the crossing, snapping off both gates, just before the train rushed past.

With her in the car were a sister, Mrs. Walter Haldiman of N. Sumner St., and her two children.

Mrs. Daniels was cited for crossing when the gates were lowered. She pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs. Both the fine and costs were suspended.

Taylor Scores 4 TD's As Packers Humble Browns 49-17

Cleveland Loses Loop Lead; Plum Is Injured

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns lost a game, the league lead and their top quarterback Sunday in a humiliating 49-17 decision to the Green Bay Packers.

But Coach Paul Brown didn't appear too upset by the triple tragedy.

"We took a pretty good shellacking—but in the standings it counts as only one game," was his reaction. "We've won a lot of 'em like that, but they don't count any more than the one."

And a shellacking it was. The Green Bays scored the first four times they had the ball; they counted six touchdowns rushing—the first this year allowed by the Browns by that method; fullback Jim Taylor scored four times and piled up 158 yards in 21 carries to run off from Cleveland's Jim Brown in the rushing race; and the Browns gave the Packers the last three scores via the pass interception and fumble route.

Milt Plum threw a 21-yard scoring pass to Gern Nagler and a 13-yarder to Ray Renfro—but that came long after Green Bay had the tussle tucked away. Lou Groza booted a 27-yard field goal and missed another from 42, giving him 8 for 10 this season—and that was the extent of the Browns' offense.

Plum, the league's No. 1 passer with 75 completions in 131 tries for 934 yards and 9 touchdowns, suffered a dislocated thumb late in the fray and probably will not see action against Pittsburgh next Sunday. Milt pulled the thumb back in place as he came off the field.

If he can't go against the Steelers, the quarterback chore falls to Len Dawson, the Alliance youngster who has thrown only one pass this year—a 17-yard six-pointer to Renfro. Dawson came to the Browns from the Pittsburgh club, so he'll be facing his old mates.

Back in 1954 Pittsburgh beat the Browns 55-27, and Sunday's loss was the worst for the Browns in regular season play since then. The Cleveland defense, both up front and in the passing zones, never solved the Green Bay offense, although Coach Brown said:

"We were using practically the same plays they were—but you'd never know it the way things turned out."

The potent Packers, with Taylor running wild and quarterback Bart Starr completing 15 of 17 tosses to wide-open receivers for 272 yards, were never in danger.

The game, first won by Green Bay from Cleveland in four regular season attempts, was played in a cold rain under the lights. The result left the Packers atop the western division with a 4-1 record, and shoved Cleveland into a 3-2 standing in the east.

Italy Leads 2-1 Over U.S. Netters

ROME (AP) — To 25-year-old Jon Douglas, the sixth ranked U.S. tennis player, fell the job today of halting Nicola Pietrangeli's one-man drive to take Italy into the Davis Cup challenge round.

Douglas and the 28-year-old Pietrangeli, Europe's top amateur, were matched in the first singles match as the Davis Cup interzone final went into its last day with favored Italy leading the United States, 2-1.

A victory for Pietrangeli would clinch the competition for Italy and put the Italians in the challenge round against Australia for the second year in a row.

A victory for Douglas would leave the teams tied 2-2, and all would depend on the second singles match between Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., and Italian champion Fausto Gardini.

Douglas, of Santa Monica, Calif., won the lone U.S. point of the first three matches by beating Gardini, 4-6, 4-6, 7-5, 10-8, 6-0, last Friday.

Pietrangeli gave Italy two points by beating Reed in singles, 2-6, 6-8, 6-4, 6-4 and by carrying the brunt of the load as Italy won the doubles match yesterday.

The husky Pietrangeli teamed with Orlando Sirola to defeat Reed and Donald Dell of Bethesda, Md., 6-4, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Win Comes In Last Minute of Game

West Branch Edges United 14-8 In Homecoming Game

A touchdown with just 48 seconds remaining in the game gave West Branch's Warriors a 14-8 homecoming win over the Golden Eagles of United at Salem's Reilly Stadium Saturday night.

West Branch holds a 5-1 season record and are 3-0 in the Turnpike Conference. The Warriors dropped their first game to a strong North Canton team (32-6) and since then have rolled over North Lima (20-8), Canfield (14-0), Springfield Local (28-12) and the Massillon Reserves (38-34).

The loss was the Golden Eagles' second in a row. They downed Chester, W. Va., (14-8), Crestview (23-6), Springfield (41-6) and Jackson-Milton (16-0) before losing to Beaver Local (12-0).

Overall, the game was strictly a defensive battle. Both teams showed tremendous defensive units and continually bogged down the others' offensive efforts.

West Branch took the opening kickoff, and on the first play from scrimmage halfback Norm Wallace sprinted into pay dirt. However, a clipping penalty called the ball back to about the thirty-yard line and from there the Warriors moved the ball to the one-yard stripe where halfback Dave Knoedler bulled across. The try for extra points failed.

The score remained 6-0 until late in the third period when United's quarterback John Hanna plunged over from the one-yard line. Larry Marks ran for the extra points and the Golden Eagles led 8-6.

Midway in the last stanza West Branch moved inside the Eagles' 10-yard line but the defense stiffened and United took over on downs.

However, later in the period the Warriors marched inside the United 20 once more and Wilson connected on a 13-yard pass to Wallace for a TD with only 48 seconds remaining in the game. Wallace ran the extra points.

Next week the Golden Eagles will entertain Warren St. Mary's and West Branch will play host to Jackson-Milton.

Other significant developments on the Ohio football scene provided these results: Ohio University, unbeaten in 10 outings a year ago, suffered its second setback in four games; Dayton finally won one after 11 straight reversals; Bowling Green and Findlay came out on top again to hold on to first place in the Mid-American and Mid-Ohio loops, respectively, and competition for honors in the Ohio Conference is still as fierce as ever.

It was a big day for football heroes all over.

Bluffton's Bill Lape scored four touchdowns as the Beavers bounced Defiance 32-6; Dave Hornbeck threw two touchdown passes in Ohio Wesleyan's 29-0 whitewashing of winless Hiram; George Deo of Akron scored both his team's markers in a 12-0 win over Heidelberg; Odell Barry scored twice in Findlay's 28-6 verdict over Ashland; Al Polansky chucked two TD aerials to help Western Reserve down Bethany 20-0; and halfback Don Kolp tallied twice, one a 70-yard jaunt, as Case Tech topped Wayne State 19-7 for the first time since 1955.

But the foot was a key factor as Wooster stayed unbeaten. Tackle Jerry Emmons provided the margin of victory with a 19-yard field goal as Wooster nipped Denison 3-0. The losers had a chance to score from the Scots' one-yard stripe but fumbled it away.

Display Potent Attack Against Illini

Buckeyes To Get Stiff Test At Northwestern

By HAL PARIS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—That Ohio State football monster the experts have been talking about gets a sterner test this Saturday.

Coach Woody Hayes' stalwarts, who played their first three games in the friendly confines of Ohio Stadium, journey to Evanston, Ill., for a skirmish with once-beaten Northwestern.

The Buckeyes finally broke loose last weekend, unleashing a devastating attack that culminated in a 44-0 romp over inexperienced and injury-riddled Illinois.

The Big Ten inaugural for the Bucks was Ohio's most impressive victory in 50 years of combat against Illinois. But apparently Hayes took the game with a bit of caution.

He observed: "A game like this does not prove much. It is pretty well true that Illinois is down this year."

Other significant developments on the Ohio football scene provided these results: Ohio University, unbeaten in 10 outings a year ago, suffered its second setback in four games; Dayton finally won one after 11 straight reversals; Bowling Green and Findlay came out on top again to hold on to first place in the Mid-American and Mid-Ohio loops, respectively, and competition for honors in the Ohio Conference is still as fierce as ever.

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—"Canton McKinley stole one of our football players."

This opening sentence in a letter of complaint from Portsmouth's superintendent of schools has led to a football scandal at Canton McKinley High School.

The letter from Portsmouth Supt. H. W. McKelvey went to the Ohio High School Athletic Association. The OHSSA investigated, apparently found the complaint had some basis of fact, and Saturday suspended McKinley from interscholastic football for the 1962-63 school year.

The association's board of control also declared two McKinley football players permanently ineligible for interscholastic athletics at the school.

The two, brothers James and Larry Brown Austin, started practice with the Portsmouth High School football squad last August, then transferred to McKinley.

The OHSSA said the transfer involved a violation of "the undue influence rule."

But Supt. McKelvey was more direct. He said McKinley stole James Austin from right under Portsmouth's nose.

McKelvey, in his letter of Aug. 29, said the alleged theft was accomplished by offering the brothers' unemployed stepfather, Joseph Austin, a job in Canton.

"A couple of weeks ago," the letter said, "two men from Canton McKinley went to their (the Austin's Portsmouth) home and talked to the boy (James) and his stepfather. Mrs. Austin said one of the men was a football coach."

"They offered the father a job and said they would find a place for them to live in Canton. The father wanted to go as he was out of work but the mother did not want to move."

"These men had the father and boy come to Canton. They showed the boy about town, especially the high school and football facilities. They got the father a job and a place to live. The family moved to Canton last Saturday (Aug. 26)."

The OHSSA's investigation, however, showed that three men from Canton met with the Austins. Two were Don Iden Sr. and Don Iden Jr., members of the McKinley Booster Club, and the third was Joseph Cochran, McKinley's assistant football coach and a 1950 graduate of Portsmouth high school.

The text of the OHSSA's investigative report was made public by Paul A. Schott, McKinley principal. He said he plans to appeal the school's suspension "as soon as possible or as soon as permission is granted me by the superintendent (of Canton schools) or the board of education."

Schott maintained there was no undue influence and "at the worst there can only be claimed there was influence of some type."

"Actually," he went on, "I submit there was no influence of any type exerted and the moving of the parents was a bonafide one."

He labeled the ruling by the OHSSA board of control as "unduly harsh."

Canton's Mayor, Charles L. Babcock, also thought the suspension was "far too severe." He said he will try to meet today with OHSSA Commissioner William J. McConnell in Columbus "in an effort to have the board lessen its penalty."

The board report summed up the case like this:

A Portsmouth man who knew Cochran told the assistant McKinley coach that Joseph Austin was out of a job and the family was going to move to Canton. The meeting with the stepfather was then set up in late July or early August.

On Aug. 10, Mr. and Mrs. Austin and her sons, James, 15, and Larry, 17, went to Canton and stayed at the home of the McKinley school custodian.

The next day was the all-star high school football game in Canton and James wanted to go. One reason he didn't, the report said, was because it was felt he might be spotted there by Howard Baughman, head football coach at Portsmouth, who was known to be at the game.

Family Visit Canton

The Austin family was shown around town, then returned to Portsmouth where the two brothers started football practice Aug. 18. They worked out for the next week except for two days, when Portsmouth Supt. McKelvey said they were in Canton again. James claimed he and his brother were sick those two days.

On Aug. 26 a truck from Canton arrived at the Austin home, the OHSSA report continued, loaded up most of the family's furniture and took it to Canton. The Austins followed with the rest of their belongings in a trailer.

The report said Joseph Austin was told to seek employment at the Kempthorn Motor Co. in Canton, but it did not say who told him. On Aug. 28 Austin went to the company and was hired as a mechanic at $1.25 an hour.

John Quinn, president of the McKinley Booster Club, had a sales job at Kempthorn's. James Austin said his stepfather was promised a job by Quinn. (However, McKinley Principal Schott said James later denied this.)

The two brothers subsequently enrolled at McKinley. James a sophomore, became a fourth stringer on the football team, and Larry, a senior, became a fifth stringer, according to McKinley Coach Pete Ankeny.

But Ankeny said neither of the boys played in any games this year. He said James was dressed for the first game, but Larry was not in uniform for any game.

Precinct Officials' School Set Tuesday

Precinct officials, who will serve at the Nov. 7 general election, will attend an instructional school Tuesday night at 8 in the Memorial Building.

The class was set up by the County Election Board because of the large number of new precinct officials in Salem and the creation of new precincts in Salem and Perry Township, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said.

However, the school is not limited to those in the northern half of the county. Any poll workers may attend, O'Hanlon emphasized.

Italy Ousts U. S. In Davis Cup Play

ROME (AP)—Italy defeated the United States in interzone Davis Cup play today and won the right to challenge Australia for the coveted tennis trophy.

Nicola Pietrangeli scored the decisive third point by defeating Jon Douglas of Santa Monica, Calif., 9-7, 6-3, 6-2.

Italy went into the final two single matches leading 2-1, and needing to win only one more point.

Douglas, sixty-ranked American tennis player, was no match for the big Italian. Only in the first set, which lasted 58 minutes, did he battle on even terms.

Douglas previously had won the single American victory by defeating Fausto Gardini 4-6, 4-6, 7-5, 10-8, 6-0.

The final singles match of the day, which pitted Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., against Gardini, was reduced to a formality.
